Associate in Arts in Liberal Arts: Psychology/Sociology

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

1. Demonstrate knowledge of core concepts, theoretical perspectives and historical trends in the fields of Psychology and Sociology and apply critical thinking to describe and analyze human behavior and social issues.
2. Analyze and interpret various scientific evidence to evaluate social science research methods, variables, and empirical data. Apply ethical guidelines and principles in research and practice.
3. Communicate and demonstrate sensitivity towards interpersonal and cultural diversity while supporting inclusive collaboration and civic engagement.
4. Use written and oral communication to convey knowledge, express ideas, and demonstrate learning.
5. Leverage and adapt the appropriate use of a variety of technology and digital tools to enhance learning.