WASHINGTON — The Johnson Administration is quietly optimistic that the 82 surviving crewmen of the U. S. spy ship Pueblo will be released by North Korea over the Christmas holidays.

Authoritative sources told the Herald Traveler last night that North Korean and U.S. officials are working out a statement on the release of the crewmen, who have been held prisoner by the Communists since the ship was boarded and seized Jan. 23 in the Sea of Japan.

HONG KONG — North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh today called on the Vietnamese people throughout the country to increase their "determination to fight and to win" in the war against the United States. He said the halting of the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam was "an initial victory."

A Birthday in

NOV. 13, 1968

The birthday anniversary he will observe Friday (his 78th) is not likely to be the happiest in Charles de Gaulle's memory. His country is in trouble. Specifically, its currency, the franc, is under siege. Inflation has beset the French economy since the pay raises—and price rises—that followed the riots and strikes of last spring. In little more than five months France has spent more than a third of its $6 billion gold reserves trying to convince the world that its currency is sound. De Gaulle vows the franc will not be devalued.

Other Western nations are rallying to France's support in its hour of fiscal crisis. They do so not out of any particular love for the French President whose policies and pronouncements have so often irritated his nominal allies. Rather, they aid France out of self-interest, because in a considerable sense the problem of the franc is an international currency problem.

Evidence of this can be found across France's border, in Germany, where the government of that prosperous exporting nation is fighting not devaluation, but revaluation of the mark—that is, increasing its official value in the world market. Bonn's success adds to France's failures, as speculators desert the franc to invest in the mark.

Nigerian Says Peace Hopes Dim

LAGOS—A Nigerian official said yesterday the Biafran decision to "fight or die" has effectively killed all hope for a negotiated settlement of the bloody 15-month-old civil war.

"Any peace proposal would be implicitly unacceptable," he said. "The only solution is a military victory. There is no basis for discussion whatsoever."

His statement followed press reports that Nigerian federal commander Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon had rejected a peace proposal made by Lord Shepherd, Britain's secretary for commonwealth affairs.

GREENYEARS

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COMMUNITY COLLEGE

WATERTOWN, MASSACHUSETTS

PREFACE

Our lives are a series of beginnings and endings; so also our time at Mass. Bay has ended. For another class passes, and, like any other class, we came and grew and have now graduated. But a class is only a temporary grouping. We are now to go our separate ways. The alliances which have formed over these past two years will either dissolve or remain and increase, as we choose to let them. Our years at Massachusetts Bay Community College have been both difficult and meaningful, but now they are completed. There must be no tears shed, nor any hesitancy to proceed into years yet unborn. What we have gotten here must become a part of the spirit with which we shall face the future.

We have known when to work and when to laugh, in solitude and in community. Many professors and many classmates make frequent appearances in this book, as they shall in our memories.

The following pages are dedicated to a record of the good times, the trying times, the confusing and the sure times—the bonds of the past years. Let it be known that this is our memorial to these times and to those persons with whom we have shared them. We trust it is fitting.

DEDICATION

It is with great honor and pride that we dedicate the 1969 Greenyears to Dean John F. McLaughlin. Dean McLaughlin has been the Dean of Faculty since 1963, Chairman of the Division of Humanities in the early days of the college and is a professor of American Literature. Dean McLaughlin is truly a guide, philosopher, and friend. We honor him for his kindness and humor, as well as for his faithful service to Mass. Bay.

President's Message

For you, the Class of 1969, I suspect that two years have gone by all too quickly. I recall talking to some of you in September, 1967 at the Freshman Orientation. At that time you wondered aloud how you'd ever last through two whole years. And now it's gone, and you wonder where. It will be the same in the years immediately ahead. They'll be great years - years of growth, learning, valued friendships and, ultimately, fond memories.

We have enjoyed you as part of the Mass Bay family. We've had our good days and our not so good days; our ups and downs; but on the whole, they've been fun and satisfying for us. We hope they have been the same for you. I can assure you that you have displayed ingenuity and imagination which will stand you in good stead for future reference. You have been good for us because you have not allowed us to "think old, or act old".

We look to you to continue your affiliation with your Alma Mater through your involvement with our Alumni Association which will have a role of increasing importance to the College in the years immediately ahead.

I know the faculty and staff of the College join me in thanking you for your many contributions to your College and in wishing you "bon voyage" and the best of good luck in your future careers.

The Chinese have a proverb which states; "The longest journey begins with the first step." The first step toward the editing of the 1969 Greenyears began in September and what a long journey it was. However, the yearbook has opened the door to many new friends and acquaintances. I wish to express my sincere thanks to all the people involved in producing this yearbook. Our representative from William J. Keller Inc., Joe Donavan, for his patience and advice, to Warren Kaye Vantine Studios (Boston, Massachusetts) especially Bob Mills, for their portrait work and excellent processing. A very warm and appreciative thanks to a very charming advisor, Mrs. Dorothy Wadman, and to Dean Blaisdell, who assisted us with our finances.

Nothing of value is accomplished without effort and the 1969 Greenyears owes much of its success to the hard working staff. An extra special thanks to Martha McGann, assistant editor, and to Kathy Brown, Angela Oliveri, Peggy Harrigan, Mark Richmond, and Walter Punch for their tremendous support during the year.

The 1969 Greenyears has brought happiness in times to those of us who produced it, and we hope we have discovered ways of bringing it to you. Thank you.

For most of us . . .
this was a fleeting moment . . .
two short years . . .
the transitional stage . . .
between an end and a beginning . . .
but nothing remains constant . . .
soon buildings, friends, teachers are gone . . .
perhaps never to be seen again.
Memories . . .
bridge the gap . . .
enabling us to recall the lost memories of the past.

First Hong Kong Flu Case

The first case of Hong Kong in the Boston area was reported yesterday, even as doctors battled to develop a vaccine to combat it.

Dr. George E. Waterman of the state's Dept. of Communicable Diseases said the first victim of the Hong Kong flu was a physician on the staff of a Boston hospital.

THE VICTIM, according to Dr. Waterman, recently visited Hong Kong, "but our studies indicate he didn't get it there .He apparently contracted it from people he met there who recently visited him in Boston."

Officials are anticipating an outbreak of the Hong Kong flu in Boston sometime around Christmas. It already has struck 500 persons in California, and to date there is no vaccine against it.

cording to Dr. David J. Sencer, director of the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, a vaccine will h available later this month. T chronically ill and elderly be encouraged first to be cinated, he said, because tial production lots w small.

Alerted For Attack

By BERT W. OKULEY

SAIGON—South Vietnamese troops guarding Saigon have been alerted to expect a possible attack on the capital, Saigon government sources said last night. But U. S. command spokesmen said they had no word of an impending threat.

Report of the alert came after U. S. military spokesmen announced that American troops had thrown back during, two-day North Vietnamese assault on a key U.S. marine base south of the Demilitarized Zone in more than two hours of fighting.

South Vietnamese military sources said intelligence reports indicated the Communists might be planning some sort of assault against Saigon in the next nine days to coincide with the 8th anniversary of the founding of the Vietcong's National Liberation front (NFL).

THE NLF, POLITICAL arm of the Vietcong and one of the parties represented at ing talks in Paris, was Dec. 20, 1960.

When Dr. Christian Barnard performed the world's first human heart transplant in Capetown, South Africa, the event rated front-page headlines Recently, surgeons in Houston, Tex., completed the world's 78th heart transplant and newspaper barely mentioned it.

Dec. 3 will mark the first anniversary of Barnard's historic operation on Louis Washkansky, the first transplant recipient, who died 18 days later. Today even doctors who at first opposed the radical surgery as premature concede that transplants have moved from experimentation into accepted clinical practice.

"The initial success has been higher than I ever suspected," Barnard said in an overseas telephone interview from London. "We have shown thus far that patients dying from heart disease can be kept alive free of symptoms for some period of time."

In the year that has passed, surgeons in more than 15 nations — including the Soviet Union and such minor medical powers as India, Chile and Australia — have transplanted human hearts. Thirty-nine recipients, half the total number, are alive today. A few have returned to work and near-normal living. One man, Dr. Philip Blaiberg, Barnard's second patient, has survived since Jan. 2.

"Transplantation is here," said Dr. Eliot Corday of Los Angeles, a past president of the American College of Cardiology and one of the early dissenters. "We must change our whole thinking. We are at the opening of a new era."

U.S. Gives $2.5 Million for War Victims in Biafra

WASHINGTON — (NC) — President Lyndon B. Johnson coupled an announcement of new U.S. relief aid to victims of the Nigeria-Biafra war with an indirect plea that the war end soon.

The President noted that the new gift brings American contributions to the International Committee of the Red Cross for its relief work to $12.5 million in cash, food and equipment.
