MASSACHUSETTS BAY COMMUNITY COLLEGE ATHLETIC NEWS

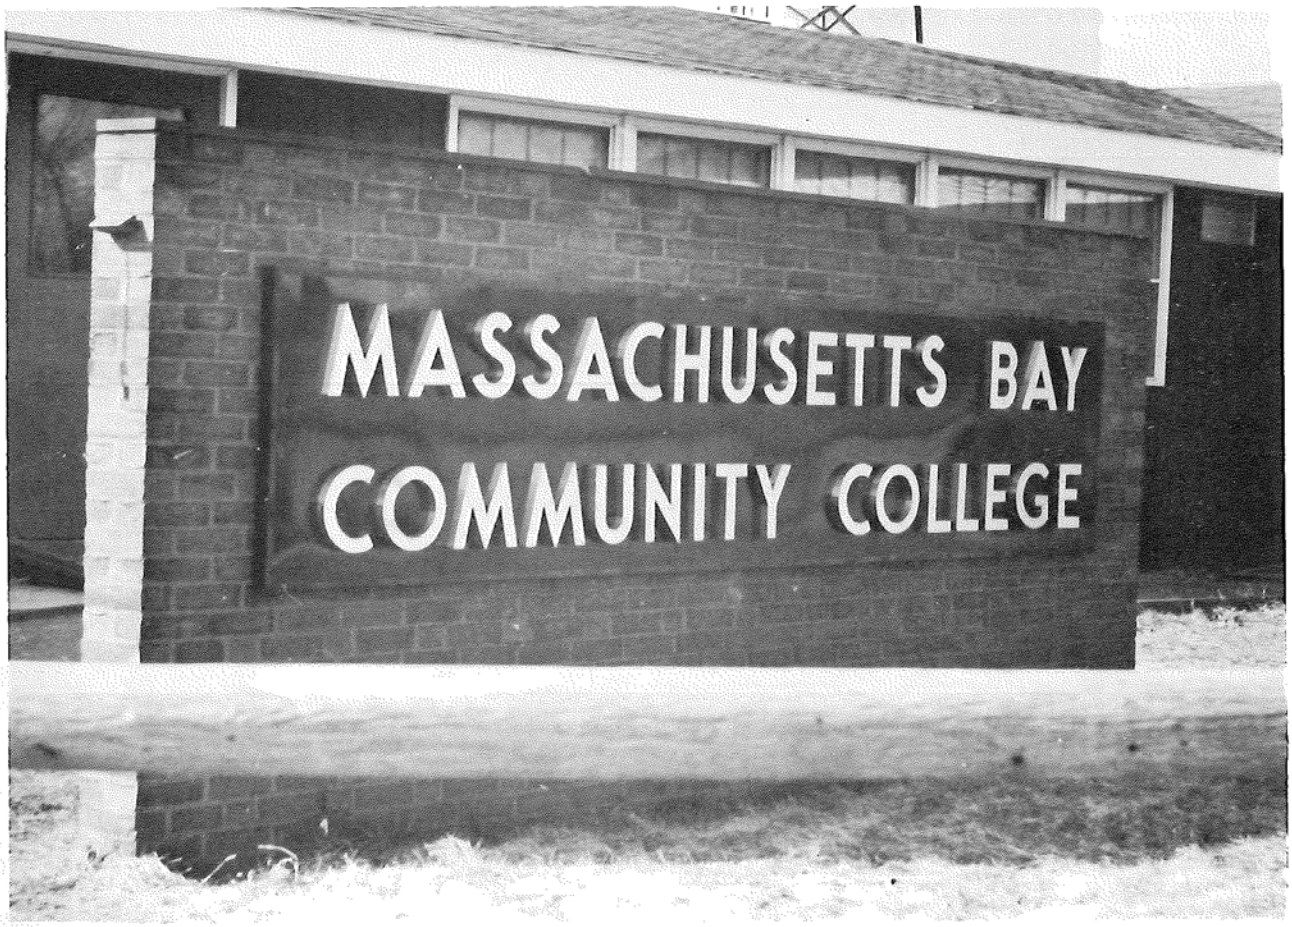

HISTORY OF MASS BAY

Massachusetts Bay Community College was the second community college established by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in 1961. In that year, the college opened its doors to 419 students at a campus on Garrison Street in the Back Bay, near the Prudential Center. In September of 1965, because of increased enrollment, one-half the student body attended classes at Watertown High School while awaiting renovation of what is now known as the Watertown Campus.

Accreditation of Massachusetts Bay Community College by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools came in December of 1967. Membership is also maintained in the American Association of Junior Colleges.

After a ten year search for a permanent campus, the Legislature of Massachusetts approved the purchase of the Elizabeth Seton High School in Wellesley in October of 1973. This past November, Massachusetts Bay Community College held its first classes at its Wellesley Campus.

From its early days, though in temporary buildings, the members of the student body identified themselves with the new College and its immediate and long-range objectives and manifested a true spirit of involvement, responsibility, and pride in the College – particularly in its growth and development on a sound academic and moral basis.

To the Members of the Graduating Class of 1974:

It has been our happy privilege to have been associated so closely with you these last two years. As you go, you may be sure that a little of us goes with you. We hope we as a faculty and staff have made some inroad toward helping you achieve success in your future careers. We are proud and grateful to have had some small part in your lives.

This year, the students who were here were a party to a milestone in the history of our College. After thirteen years, Mass Bay has a "permanent new home" in its acquisition of the Wellesley Campus. It took a great deal of hard work by students, faculty and staff to make this possible, and it was indeed worthwhile. We, therefore, look to you to continue your affiliation with Mass Bay through your involvement as alumni who will play an increasingly influential role in determining what your College is ultimately to become. You will pave the way for those who come after you.

The faculty and staff join me in thanking you for our many pleasant hours together and in wishing you good luck and Godspeed.

John F. McKenzie
President

ORAL COMMUN

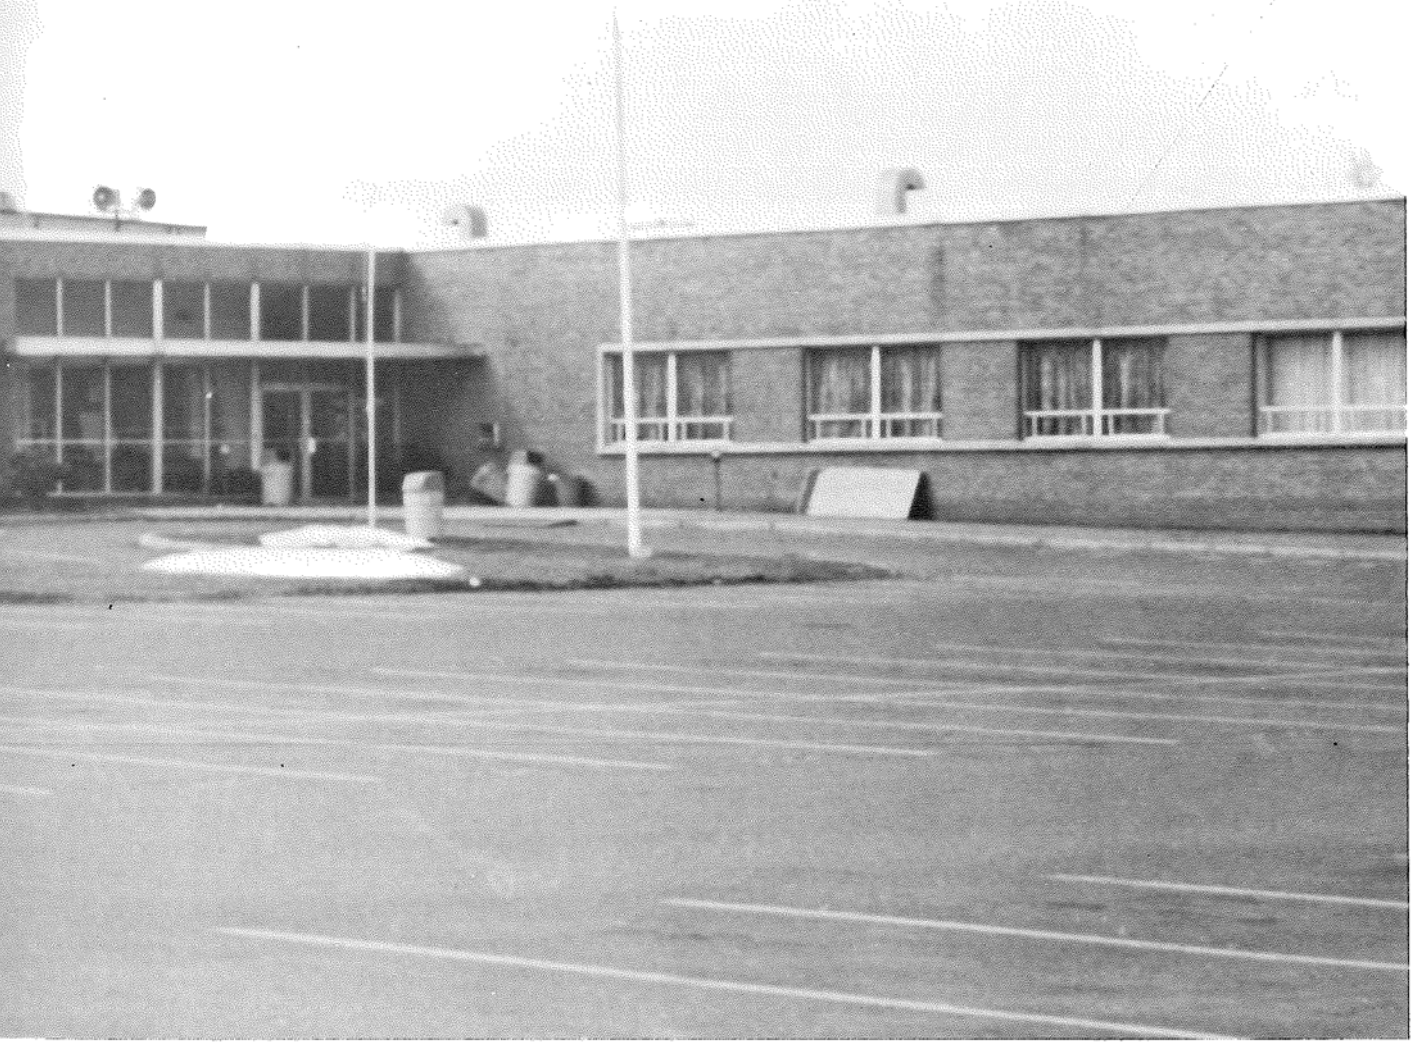

DEDICATION

A master of the art of bringing learning to life and life to the classroom; a deeply concerned, gentle, and compassionate person who is all the more a man for these qualities; a teacher, advisor, counselor, and friend who has given so much of himself and we are better human beings for it. We will always be indebted to him for helping us put faith in ourselves and our capacity to contribute to the well being of all people. It is with great affection and respect that we, the Class of 1974, proudly dedicate our yearbook to . . .

PROFESSOR PAUL G. MARKEY

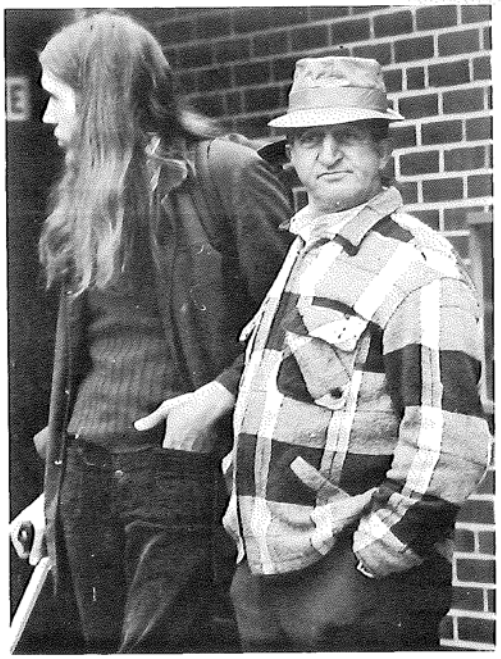

More than anything else there were people.
People who made me happy,
People who made me hurt,
People who made me satisfied.
They stamped my life with their existence,
And they let me stamp their lives with mine.

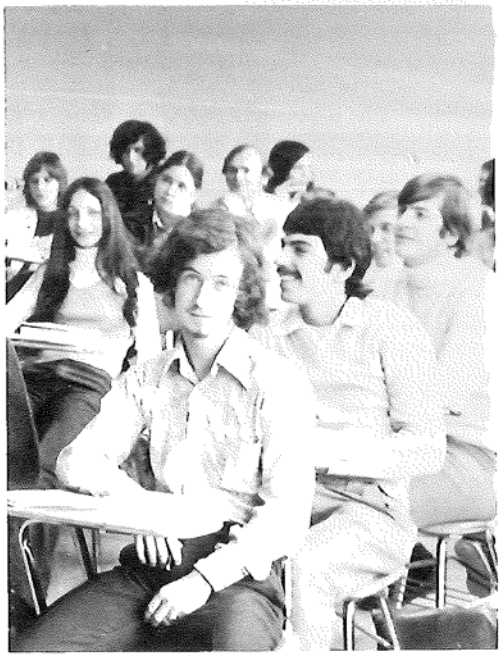

"IT'S MADE WITH WHAT?"

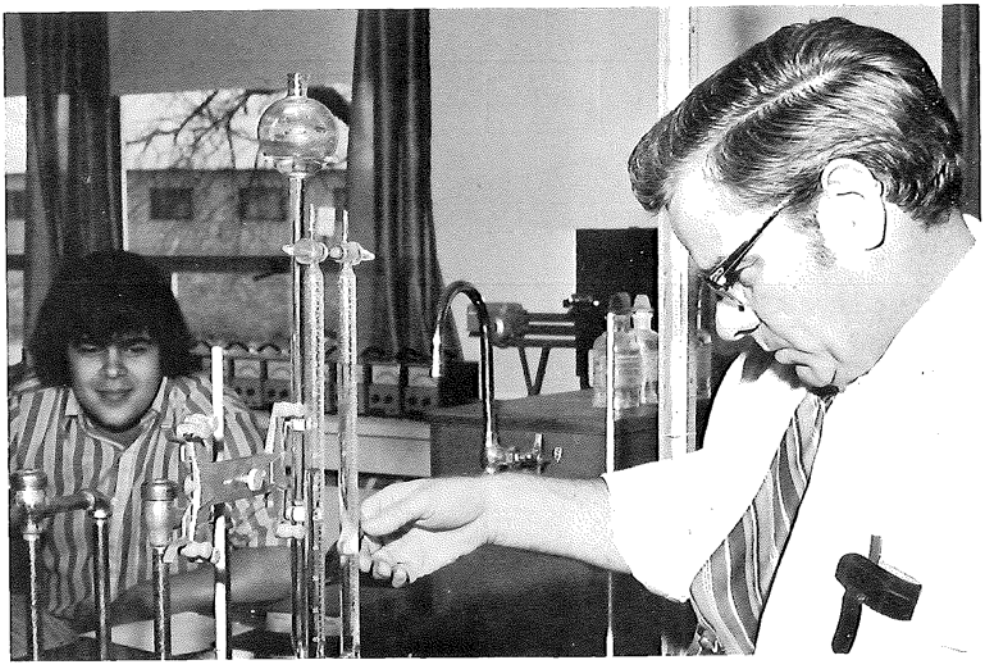

"HMMM . . . MAYBE I SHOULD TRY SCOPE"

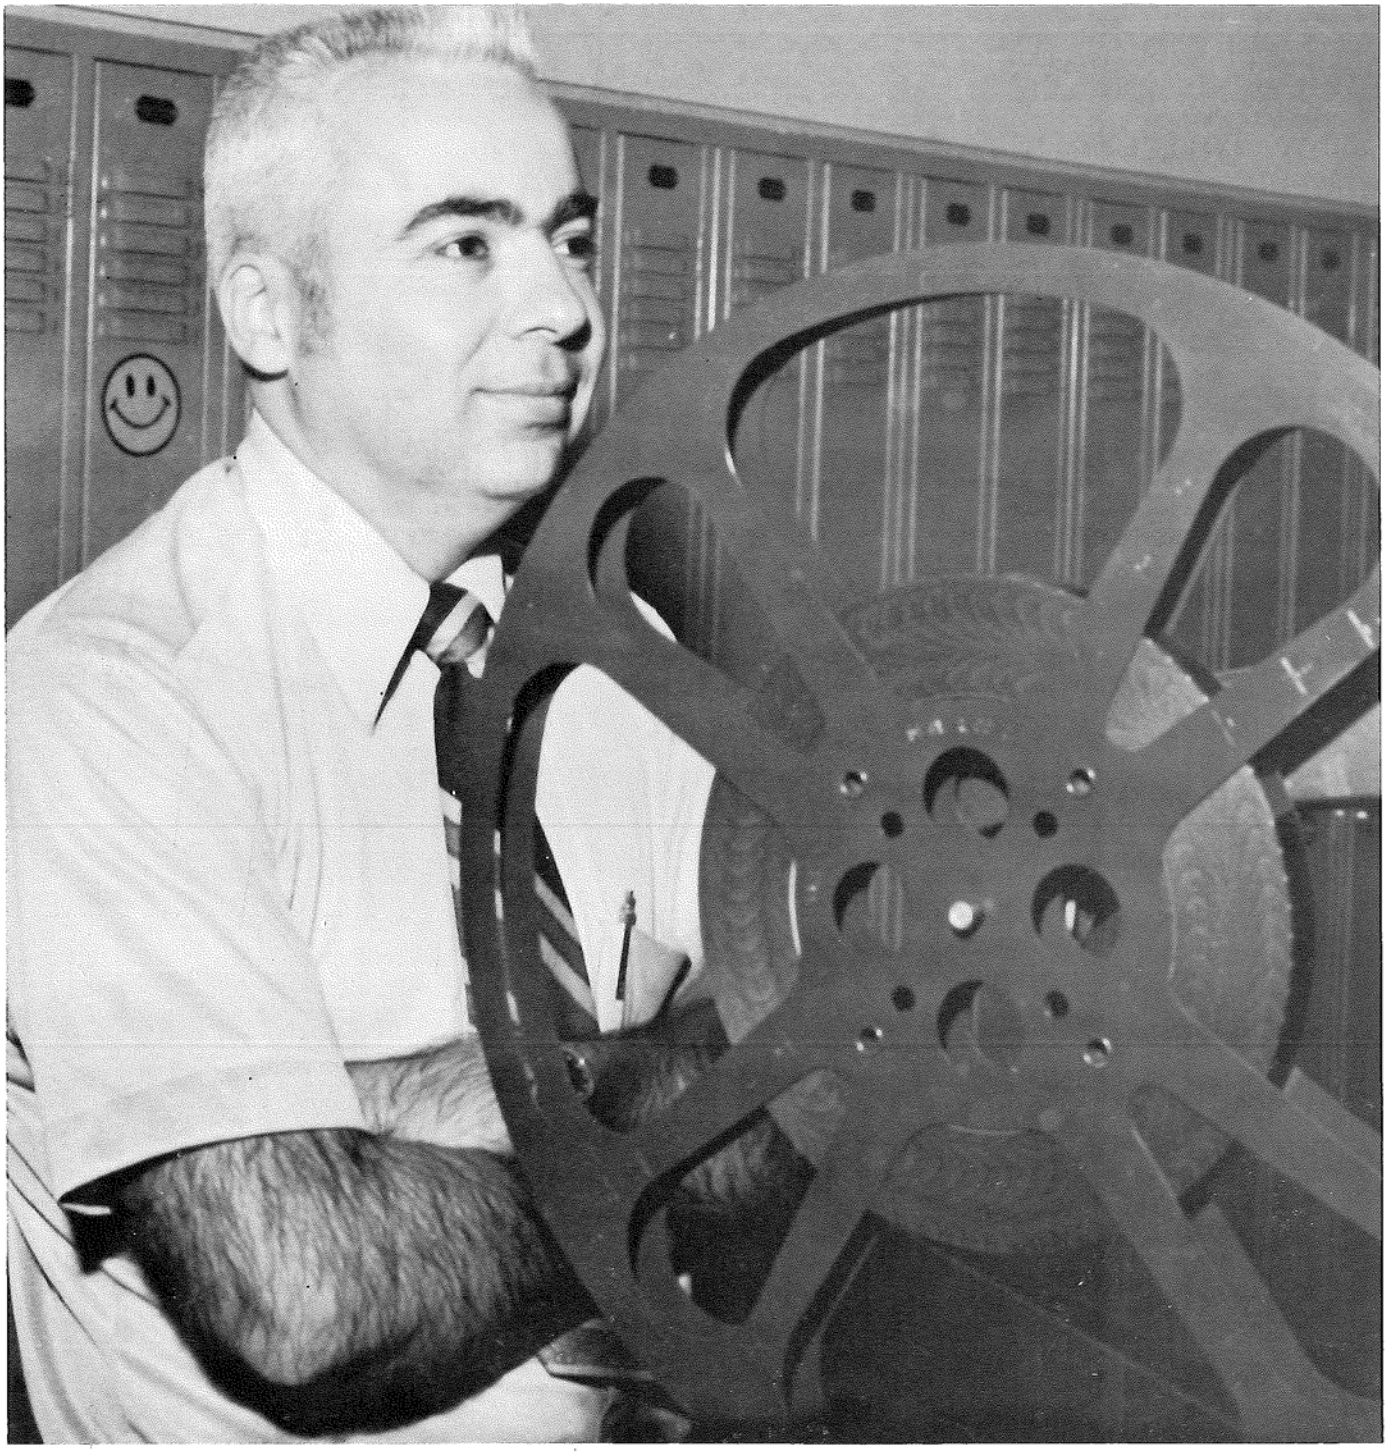

"MY HOW TIME FLIES"

"WOULD I LAUGH IF THIS PLACE BLOWS UP"

I THOUGHT THERE WAS ONLY ONE FLOOR

WHAT'S SHE SAYING?

Tomorrow does not stand apart,
A shining, all new day;
Tomorrow is a thing slow built
Of hours passed away.

It's made of dreams your heart has stored,
And dreams discarded, too;
It's made of all the joys and tears
The years have brought to you.

It's made of lessons you have learned,
The friends you've known – the foes;
As each of our Todays is bent,
So our Tomorrow grows;

It's made of sweat and toil and pain
And song and love and laughter;
Each minute of Today helps build
The day that follows after.

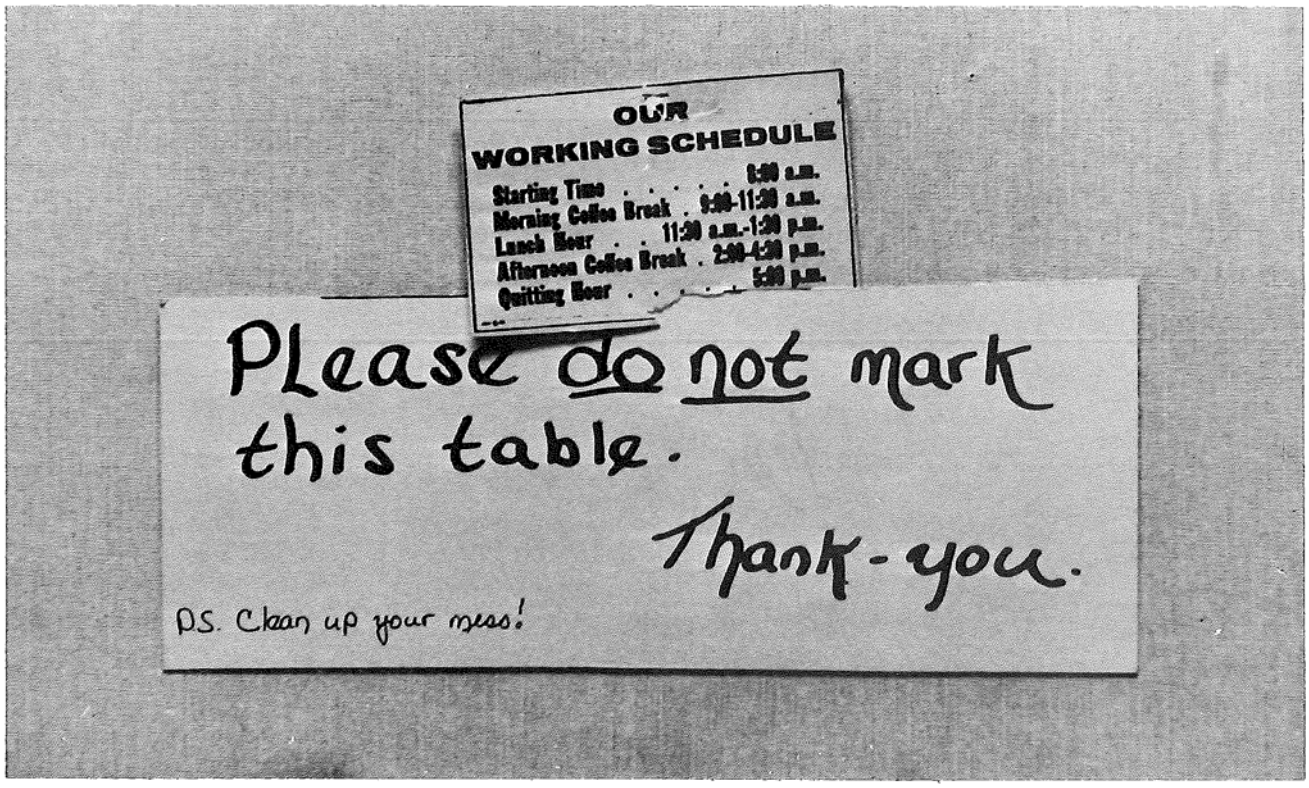

Tomorrow does not spring full-built
With some new dawn's bright rays–
Tomorrow is a slow-built thing
Made up of Yesterdays.

Helen Lowrie Marshall

TO SOPHOMORES:

Here we find ourselves once again,
Older and wiser; grown women and men.

We've spent two trying but fun years at the Bay,
Working and studying trying to find our way.

Thrown into the world is where we find ourselves,
All our textbooks are thrown upon dusty shelves.

We now have our own lives to lead,
We realize now it is going to be a difficult deed.

Left behind are all the ways of campus life,
We must now face a world that is filled with strife.

Some of us face two more years of school,
Trying desperately to make our brain a more useful tool.

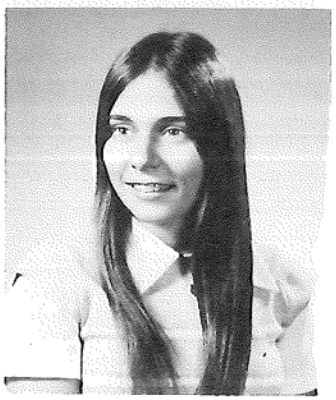

Others will look forward to a lifetime of work,
So take the champagne and remove the cork.

All we have left now is a memory,
Of all the friends who used to be.

WATERTOWN PARADE

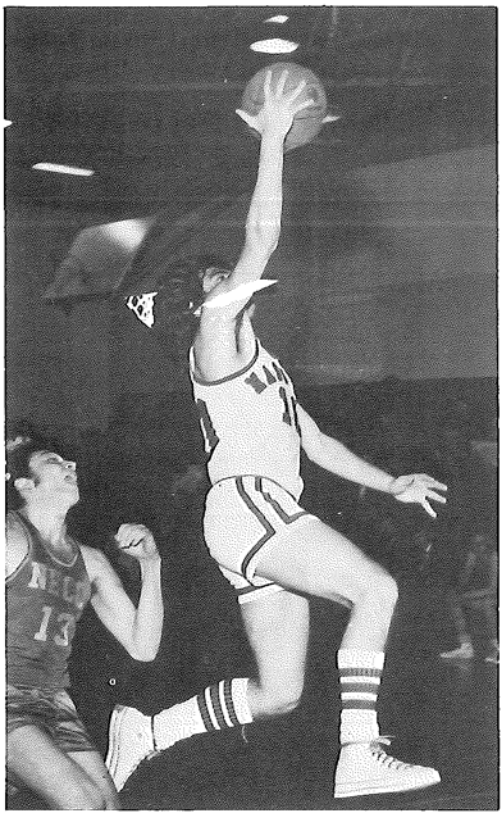

In October 1973 the students of Mass. Bay took part in a Watertown Parade. The parade was to raise money for underprivileged children in the community. Taking part in the parade were Paula Antonageli, Sharon and Karen Beckwith, Sandy Bracey, Linda Colozzi, Ronnie Geraneo, Diane Medwar, Dolores Nigro, Janet O'Connell, Karen Quinzio, and Maryanne Sullivan.

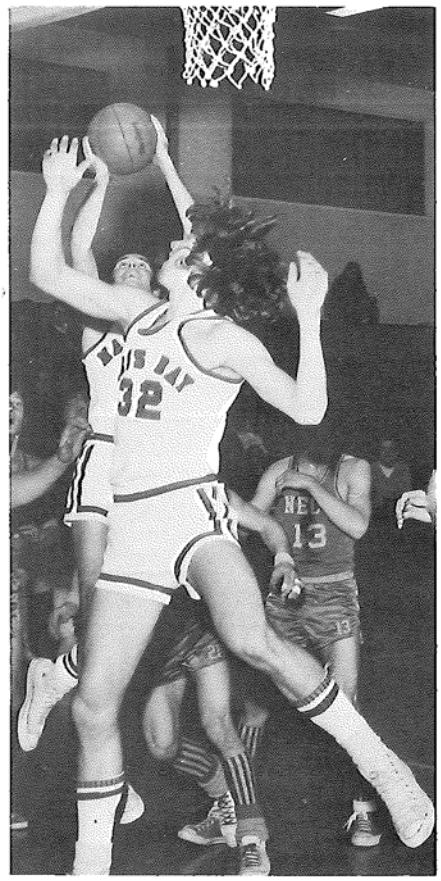

Our thanks to all who participated.

FALL BASEBALL

"WHERE'D THE BALL GO?"

Yellow on a lace afternoon–
Someday I'll go to find the field
We used to know
And pass by the brown fences that float after you.
I'll follow the road that took us to the world
we can never reach again.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

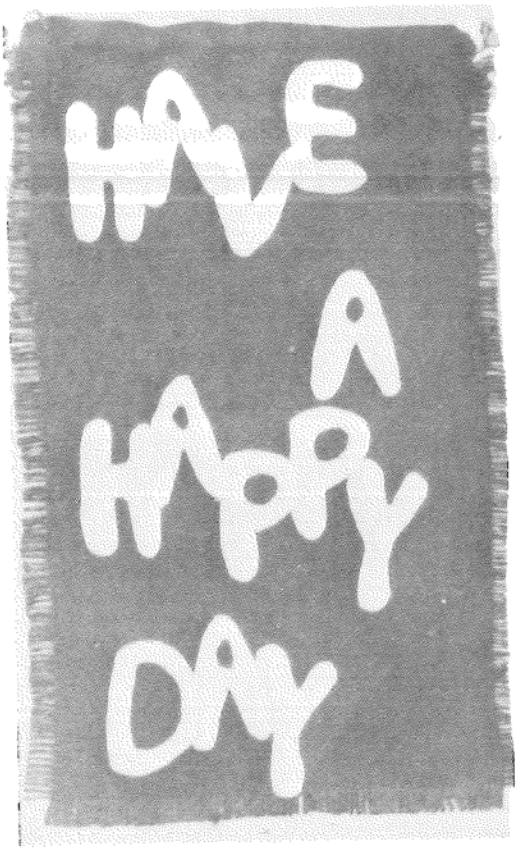

As the editor of the 1974 edition of "Greenyears", I have enjoyed my growing and learning experience at Mass Bay and would like to share with you this yearbook which I feel is a reflection of student life.

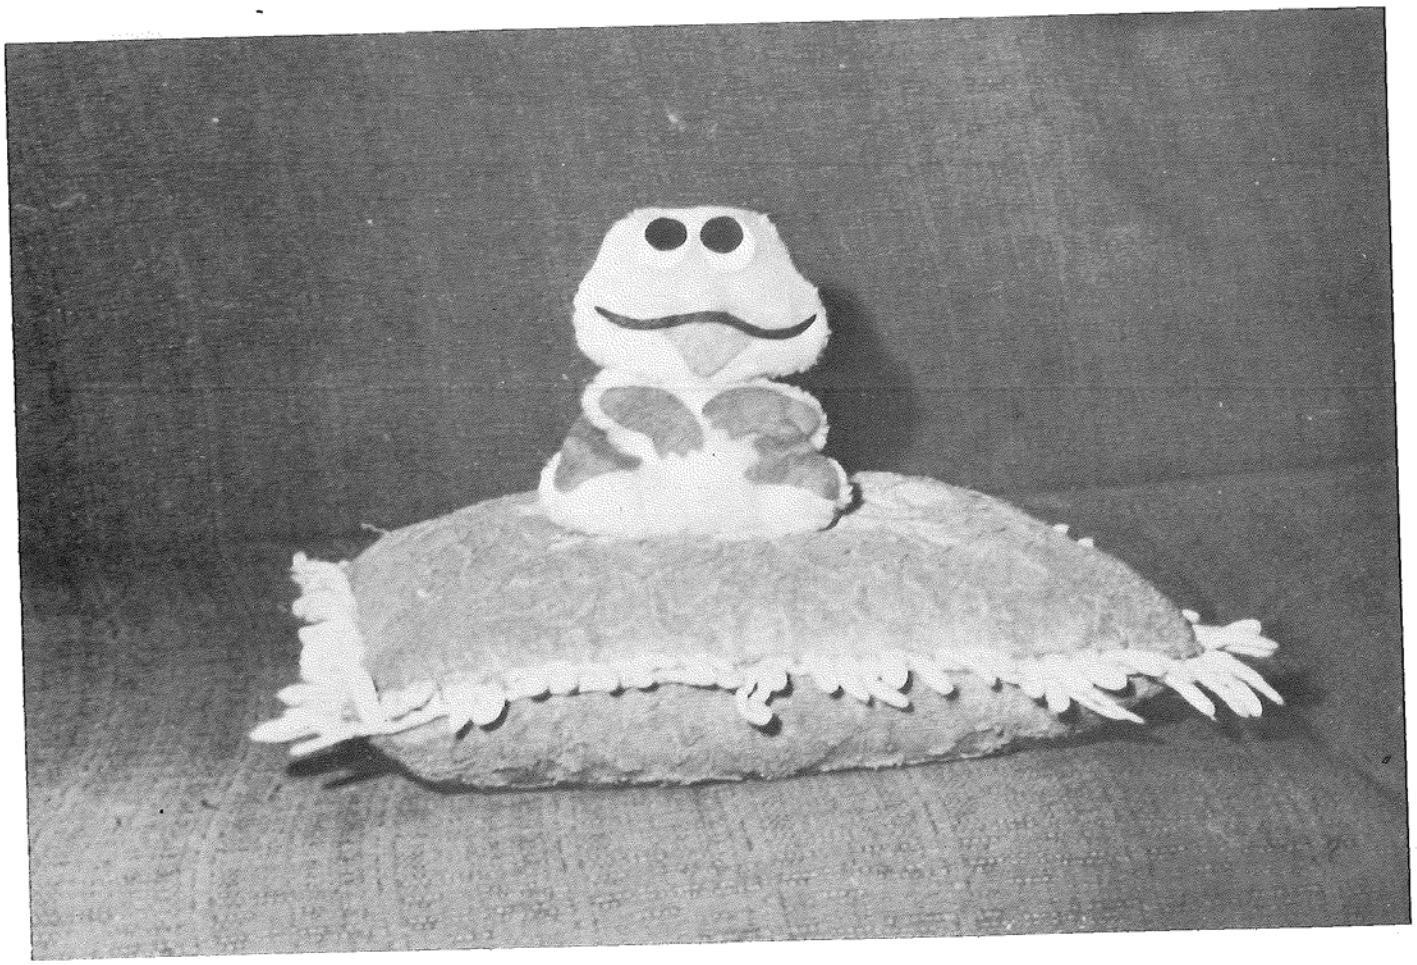

My deep appreciation is extended to the yearbook staff whose selfless giving of time and effort has contributed to the yearbook's success.

This yearbook is an expression of feelings and events which have influenced us as students of the College.

My best wishes go to the Class of 1974. I hope that we will all have experiences in the future as enriching as the experiences we have had at Mass Bay.
